Available from the CIA Library is a two-page report which deals with a recent organizational shake-up of the Federazione Italiana Lavoratori del Mare (FIIM; Italian Federation of Seamen). Pursuant to a new agreement reached in early March 1955, the FIIM Directing Council, without counting the National Secretary, will be composed of 13 center-right members and 11 leftist members. The report also infers that FIIM's ties with the Communist-controlled labor union, Confederazione Generale Italiana del Lavoro (CGIL; Italian General Confederation of Labor) are at present less strong than they have been in the past.
